

Example of the client-server app:

1. The first screen of the app downloads users of the github. Each element of the list shows user's name and avatar.
2. Pressing the list element lets you to see the second screen with detailed information about the user (the name and the profile's link).
3. When you press the link, browser opens the starting page of choosen github user.